

Program Options for Master of Business Administration Full-Time Students Entering Fall 2007 or Earlier

The requirements for the Master of Business Administration (MBA) degree will change for students entering Fall 2008. Consequently, your program of study may be a blend of the current and future requirements. You will also gain some flexibility during this transition period in that you may choose to follow degree requirements that appear in the 2007/08 San Diego State University Graduate Bulletin or those that will apply to students entering in Fall 2008. This handout will help you understand the differences between the two options.

The major components of the MBA Program are:

- (1) 8 (19 units) of core courses: BA 650 – BA 665
- (2) 4 theme courses (12 units) if you follow the current requirements or 2 theme courses (6 units) if you follow the future requirements,
- (3) 5 electives (15 units) if you follow the current requirements or 7 electives (21 units) if you follow the future requirements, and
- (4) BA 795, the culminating experience.
