Mr. Chief Executive:

Does your Company pay employees to hide alcoholism? Sounds like a foolish question, doesn't it? Yet, if your Company is like the great majority of American businesses, you're paying out good hard cash to reward employees for concealing their alcoholism.

Your Company can approach this problem on a personal basis with other firms and organizations in the community who have had experience with the alcoholic; and can share their profile of this individual who needs professional or para-professional guidance.

Alcoholism is the nation's number one health problem!

The National Council on Alcoholism and Labor's Community Services Committee, who jointly serve San Diego and Imperial Counties, cordially invite your firm to participate in the First Annual Labor-Management Luncheon Conference on Alcoholism to be held at the Kona Kai Club, Shelter Island, on Tuesday, November 23, 1971.

The Luncheon Conference starts promptly at 11:30 a. m.. The keynote speaker will be Thomas Pike, Vice Chairman of the Board of the Fluor Corporation and the Chairman of President Nixon's National Advisory Committee on Alcoholism.

The Luncheon Committee urges your organization to send as many management personnel as possible to this informative Conference on Alcoholism. Please return the registration card no later than November 20, 1971.

Sincerely yours,

William A. Craven
