Dear Mrs. Margolis:

We thought that you might be interested in participating in the off-campus Work-Study Program currently being conducted by the University of San Diego in conjunction with the federal government.

Under this program, any non-profit agency may provide off-campus employment to needy full-time college students through the college's financial aid office.

The agency further agrees to provide 40% of the student's salary with the remaining 60% being charged against the university's federal work-study fund. Salaries vary and the maximum work week during the academic periods is 15 hours per week.

If you are interested in participating in such a program, please write or call and I will be happy to send you complete rules and regulations and a sample contract.

Sincerely yours,

George T. Urdzik
