Dear Mr. Lawrence:

Miramar is the best site for a regional airport. The other options are not even close. Using your influence to promote this idea might make it happen but it will be a tough fight because of the ignorance and political pressures that surround this problem.

After more than forty years in aviation during which I have observed hundreds of airports throughout the world I have strong feelings on this matter. I would like to meet with you briefly and share some of my thoughts which support your position.

I am just down the street. Give me a call.

Sincerely,

Charles F. Timberg
