SUBJECT: Volunteer Opportunities for Students

In the next two months, we will be speaking to students as representatives of those agencies needing volunteer services. Many students, both high school and college age, give freely of their spare time during the school year. In connection with some college courses, they are required to give 30 to 40 hours a semester in community service. Also, most high schools stress the need for and give recognition of the time the students give working out in the community.

As part of our orientation of the students, we explain the valuable contributions previous students have made to the agencies through their voluntary services. In a further attempt to orient them, we explain some of the current needs of the agencies and we give them a brief description of the programs and services offered by the agencies. Each student is provided a listing of those agencies we know need volunteer services. The student contacts the designated representative of that agency he feels he can best serve.

Most schools have been impressed with the quality and variety of opportunities for students to gain meaningful learning experiences outside of the classroom. Many students, through these experiences, are better able to choose their future vocations. In return, as we are sure you realize, the agencies have found the experience to be most beneficial to their programs.

We would like to include you in our student recruitment program. To list your specific needs, just fill out the enclosed form and return it by September 18 to the Volunteer Bureau.
