[MS-0436.004.013.041]

City Granted $2,035,781 in Poverty Funds

Van Deerlin Says Southeast Area Chief Recipient

CONTINUED FROM PAGE B-1.

Advisory Committee on Mexican-Americans on anti-poverty, Inc., $187,437. Project will employ 20 aides and involved 6,000 to 8,000 families.

Third — Young Women's Christian Association of San Diego, $12,652, to help young mothers and their children. Eight aides will be hired.

Fourth — Catholic Family Service, $237,085. The project will encompass 40,000 low-income people and employ 27 aides.

Fifth — Community Economic Opportunity Center Inc. of Imperial Beach, $121,529. Fourteen aides will be employed.

Sixth — Family Service Association, $6,030. Four aides will be hired to help disadvantaged parents with pressing social problems.

Seventh — San Diego Economic Opportunity Commission, $336,664. The project will plan and administer community action programs in San Diego County. A staff of 18 will be hired.

Eighth — South Bay Guidance Clinic, $48,170. The project will employ three aides. Major purposes of the clinic is to prevent and treat mental and emotional health problems in children.

Ninth — San Diego Urban League, 19,266. This is a tutorial program for under-achievers in school. It will employ 53 aides.

Tenth — Junior Government Inc., $15,705. This is a citizenship program for children and youth. Six aides will be hired.

Eleventh — Community Welfare Council, $15,554. This is a camping program for children of poor families. Project will include 510 children.

Twelfth — Southeast San Diego Anti-Poverty Council Inc., $328,076. This is a job-training program that finances the training and pays the small business firms employing them. It is designed to employ seven persons and provide training for 100 jobless or under-employed heads of households.

Thirteenth — San Diego Economic Opportunity Commission, $313,683. This project is designed to involve the poor directly in the planning, conduct and administration of community action programs in the county. It will employ 39.

Fourteenth — The Congress of Racial Equality, $139,713, to train leaders for Southeast San Diego. This self help project will involve 70 jobless or under-employed men and women with "potential leadership abilities." Harold Brown is project leader. It will employ 71 aides.