[ms-0436.004.013.028]

CORE, Mayor Discuss Jobs

(Continued from a-17)

he "saw nothing in it which would address itself to racial discrimination."

"CORE has no alternative but to continue demonstrations," he said. He asked the group to accompany him to the downtown branch of the Bank of America. The organization has demonstrated against the bank on Fridays since May 17.

The demonstrators reached the bank 10 minutes before closing time. Brown and four others with signs picketed one entrance of the bank while about 25 others stood on the sidewalk across Broadway and sang protest songs.

During the meeting at the Civic Center, two CORE members were arrested outside by sheriff's deputies on charges that on Aug. 7 they violated a court order against mass demonstrations at the Bank of America.

They were identified as Alan Glasscoe, 22, of 4437 49th St., and Leroy Martin, 22, of 2304 Harrison Ave., both students.

assignments in San Diego.

CORE Group, Mayor Discuss Employment

Mayor Curran met with three spokesmen for the San Diego Chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality yesterday in a 40-minute session to discuss what CORE described as problems of racial discrimination in employment.

The meeting in Curran's office followed an exchange of telegrams in which Harold Brown, local CORE chairman, asked the mayor to address a group in front of the Civic Center.

The mayor declined, saying he would not "discuss city business on the Civic Center steps."

Curran told the CORE representatives that a coordinating committee of about 40 community leaders, including representatives of the Negro community, will meet Monday to discuss problems of employment, which Curran said is a matter "affecting all San Diegans."

Brown said he would cooperate in the committee's work if asked but said the plan contained no assurance that members of minority groups could find jobs if they were trained for them. He asked Curran to include a provision to work toward the elimination of discrimination.

The mayor said he would consider specific requests along that line if CORE would submit them and he offered to meet again "when there is something to discuss."

After the meeting Brown told about 50 members of CORE waiting outside the Civic Center that he was not satisfied with the meeting. He said

(Continued on a-24, Col. 6)