GIVE SAN DIEGO COUNTY THE BEST

LEON WILLIAMS: A PERSONAL PROFILE

Councilman Williams has been an integral part of the San Diego community since he came to the region in 1945, after serving with the United States Army Air Corps. Leon earned his bachelor's degree from San Diego State University before moving on to a professional career as a supervisor in the welfare department, a role which gave him great insight into the problems in that area. Leon left that job convinced that the best welfare program is a good job. Leon then served over nine years as administrative officer in the county sheriff's department. In that position, he was responsible for preparation and administration of the budget, for evidence and property, liaison with other county departments and conducted studies which led to decentralization and other innovations of the department. Leon has also been active in numerous civic and cultural organizations in the city.

On the City Council, he has worked to bring more jobs to the region by sponsoring and supporting major economic development programs.

Leon has also worked for street and flood control improvements; housing rehabilitation programs; the maintenance and preservation of open space; and the development of recreation and senior citizen centers.

It's an accomplishment-filled record. Now it's time to elect Leon to the Board of Supervisors.

Councilman Williams has participated in the National League of Cities meetings in Washington, D.C., where he has helped push for reforms in sewage treatment that have saved San Diego taxpayers millions of dollars. Additionally, his work in Washington, D.C., and Sacramento has meant millions of dollars in U.S. government support for rebuilding the inner city, housing rehabilitation programs and economic development programs to help fight unemployment.

ONCE ELECTED TO THE BOARD, LEON WILL WORK FOR:

- Continued economic development of the region
- A planned and adequate housing supply
- Work training for welfare recipients
- Consolidation of city and county services

As a former aide to the sheriff, Leon knows that too many dangerous criminals are being turned loose. As a supervisor, Leon will be committed to keeping hardened criminals in jail by immediately placing petty offenders in work camps.

Councilman Williams has been active throughout the city. He is a founding member of the board of directors for the San Diego Trolley line and has worked hard to find opportunities for affordable housing, including mobile homes.

Councilman Leon Williams has a well-deserved reputation for being tough, but fair. Tough in dealing with all the groups a public official must, ranging from public employees to special interests. Fair in finding a solution to benefit the voters. It's this reputation plus his outstanding experience in dealing with the problems of government that make him the choice of voters throughout the Fourth Supervisorial District.

ELECT COUNCILMAN

INDEPENDENT — EXPERIENCED — RESPONSIVE

Councilman Leon Williams first became a member of the San Diego City Council in 1969 — and he's been elected four times to the office by voters in the city, voters who recognize that Leon is working hard for them and the city.

Councilman Williams has represented a district with numerous problems and tremendous economic needs. He has responded with hard work and a dedicated staff, which have made believers out of many people who had lost faith in local government's ability to resolve their problems.

Let's put Leon and his record of accomplishment on the Board of Supervisors, for all of our benefit. On June 8, vote for Williams for Supervisor.
