CITIZEN'S COMPLAINT

A citizen called on March 28, 1973, about 5:15 p.m. she was very upset, and stated that she had left her children alone to go to the store, the oldest child was 16 and one of the little girls had been sick for a long period of time. In her absence she stated that policemen came to her house and surrounded it. Several police officers came to the front door;knocked, and when the youngsters open the door pushed their way in; asking for their oldest brother, saying that they had a warrant out for his arrest. The citizen related the following factors.

1. The officers proceeded to search the house.

2. The officers were very disrespectful-frighten the children.

3. Stating that they wanted any information that could lead to the oldest brother's arrest and if they would not provide the information the children would go to jail.

Hearing this, the 16 year old ~~xxxx~~ gave them the brother's girl-friend's phone number. The girlfriend receive a call from some one with the same name of one of the officers (she gave the name of the officers, I think starting with an S) but I did not get the name. Thus saying he was a hair dresser and wanted to know the wereabouts of her husband. The girlfriend is reply: "I do not have a husband" he ~~xxxxx~~ Then said ~~xxx~~ "boyfriend" she did not give him any further information.

4. On leading one officer told the children not to call, and if they got on the telephone after they left, they the officers would tap the telephone and take them to jails. The mother had informed the youngsters to call their father or older sister if there were ever problems when she was away. The children where afraid to call.

The mother said the children were very frightened and confused when she arrived, and that they were afraid to contact anyone. She was especially concerned about her 13 year older, who had been ill for several months.
