What is your zip code?

Dear Becky,

Hello. Sorry about not writing but I just haven't felt like writing to anyone lately.

I've been listening to Judy Collins all night.
Not Wildflowers, but ~~so~~ In My Life. Miss Gill left it to me and I sent her your Judy Collins.
I hope you don't mind. Anyway, I think you and she have a lot in common. She likes Leonard Cohen too. The songs she sings are:

1. Tom Thumb's Blues (Dylan)
2. Hard Lovin' Loser
3. Pirate Jenny
4. Suzanne - i really like it now that i have heard it finally
5. La Colombe (Brel-Clayre)
6. Marat/Sade (nevermind)
7. I Think it's going to Rain (at camp Sierra Debbie sang it)
8. Sunny Goodge Street (Donovan)
9. Liverpool Lullaby (Kelly)
10. Dress Rehearsal Rag (cohen)
11. In My Life (Lennon-McCartney)

The has a perfectly different style from Wild flowers.
She sings louder songs and they can be strong. At first I liked ~~your~~ album much better, but she kind of grows on you and I am liking it more and more.
I think I'll get this album or John Wesley Harding. I like Judy Collins. How come you don't like her anymore?
She's coming to Davis!!!

For my turn to teach I played Judy Collins and had the class draw to it or else write what they felt. I brought crayons and chalk. Everyone's pictures are up on the wall and they all look like little kiddie pictures. Only 3 people wrote about her. Hopefully it was successful. Our art work is at the Wells Fargo Bank. Art is fun. So far we've been to the Davis Honda Shop and drew Hondas and to the Fire Department. Meg Knox was sitting in a fire engine and Alex said to her, "Look Meg, look at this horn." So with curiosity, she pressed it and the siren went off (just for a minute) Mr. Neu got really mad at her and the fire chief was laughing. I have about a C average in World Geography. I got a 45% on a test. Fortunately she grades on the curve and I got a C. I'm not doing too well. Yesterday I ~~got~~ had to do a report thing, in front of the class and I think and I hope this will improve my grades so far.

How are you doing in school? I think the only class I'm sure to get an A in is typing. The highest score I got so far is 40 words a minute. My average is about 37 words a minute. We know all of the alphabet, the tab key, the back space, the capitalizers, the ; ,) , . and most of the ways to put paper in and center it and stuff. Algebra isn't too bad. It could be better, but it's fine now. P.E. is awful. Mrs. Stevens has a lot to learn about teaching. I hope Carolyn is ~~as~~ as bad as her. She's sassy so I just act really sassy to her. I guess I'll live, but now I can really appreciate Mrs. Harser for what she was. All P.E. teachers are pretty bad. They all seem to be icky and everything. I hope there is some good in it. We are supposedly playing soccer now. I think Lee like it. I've never played it before in my life. There is going to be a dance this next Friday, I can't decide whether I should go or not. Maybe I will, maybe not. I'm on the Flame staff again. I'm also new on the Wasp Staff. My last article was pretty sick. I hope I can make next newspaper a good one. It has some good fillers. I'm going to put the one about the alligators in New York sewers in.

The wind sure is blowing a lot here. It always seems to blow quite a bit. It is very cold.

I rearranged my room so now I don't have bunkbeds. I like it much better too. It's roomier. Here's how it looks:

It's not in exact proportions but it's (not) the best I can do either. Oh well. Now, see all the room I have? Now it's sunnier too because the bunk beds don't block out the light now.

Well I have nothing more to say except have fun & good luck and all that kind of "happy crap" (as Debbie would say.)

Love, (Not Luv)

Annie

Debbie went to Berkeley. Today is a school holiday (Friday) and things are just fun. I'm tired though.
