John Matthews is in the infirmary because he got his appendix out from fasting 4 days. He's still there. He sure looks and acts like a mental case. (Excuse the expression)

Dear Rebecca,

hi! i am writing this letter in typing so i'm not going to be perfect or anything while i type. nothing is really happening here but what ever es? (sorry about these mistakes) oh! i saw "othello" on wednesday. i do think it is the best movie i have ever seen in my life, surprisingly enough. the acting is the best i ever saw for a long time. i almost cried at the end, but i didn't fortunately. my eyes were just all watery. if you haven't seen it, you should. it was really fantastic. today in english jody metloff brought her guitar. she wasn't going to play it, and she just brought it because she didn't trust anybody with it. anyway she was forced to play it and then she made me play it in front of the class and everything. well, i said i wouldn't and everyone kept telling me to play. then i started to explain why i couldn't play in front of everyone but they still kept bugging me. i don't know why because i'm certainly not as good as some of them. well, they finally got me to play, but i didn't do a very good job of it. i was so embarrassed too so i asked miss gill if i got extra credit for being so courageous and she said i could. i hate it when people keep bugging you to do something and then you except and flubbbb it. i always do and i always blow it. it's not that i don't have self-confidence, it's just that i get nervous when every one listens to you. I am much better off on my own when nobody's around to listen but me. oh well, enough of that! i have been trying to find out what my grades are going to be. in p.e. i asked mrs. stevens if i was going to get an F and she said yes. she has the most beautiful eyes i have ever seen. they are as blue as the sky on a real blue day. i have never seen anybody with such blue eyes!!! in art i will probably get an A or B. i have a mixture of A's and B's. i am really glad i am taking art and i really love it, too. in spanish i don't know what i will get. i have no idea either. mr. york is such a meany when he's teaching but out of class he's such a nice man. i wish the people in his class could realize that, but it's a pretty one sided thing when they see him teach. i agree that he's a pretty bad teacher but when he's out of class he's a real "cool" jerk". (wowie zowie!!!) really, he is nice though. in english i don't know what i'll get. i just got an F on the vocabulary test today. but on my book report i got a 21234543 (sorry about that) i got a 100%. in typing i got a A for sure. i think this is the only class i get an A in. but anyway, in world geography i am getting more interested because we're in groups discussing the political parties. i am in the INDEPENDENT'S group. the republicans gave their presentation yesterday and i'm still not for tricky dicky. the democrats are tomorrow and i do want happy huey even though i can't stand him. i heard him on t.v. and he's pretty o.k. he just can't say much against the present jurisdiction since he is a member of it. HAPPY HUEY!!! HAPPY HUEY!!! HUEY DUEY FOR PRESIDENT!!!!!!!!!!!!!! i hope i am not boring you but this is giving me something to do. i am doing pretty good in algebra. i don't know why. i seem to do better in the stuff i hate than in the stuff i like. i went out last night, but i didn't go trick or treating. i was acting ~~like~~ like sandra's and meryl's chaperone. we went to mr. hancock's house and made him feel at home and we didn't appear to make fun of him like so many freaks do. i hope we pleased him. i set my alarm to wake me up at 11:00 i mean 11:30 but i went right back to sleep before i could do that witchcraft thing to see who i was going to marry. i should of known that i would fall right back asleep again. when
