Dear Helen,

Greetings from the Grand Canyon State. I'm extremely happy with my new husband and my new life in colorful Arizona. But as a native San Diegan with its air-conditioned climate, the summer is too much for me.

So after a trip to San Diego for a Grandson's wedding July 2nd, we're leaving for Anacortes, Washington on the inland waterway between Vancouver, British Columbia and the mainland of the state of Washington. It's just a ferry boat ride from Butchart Gardens. Ah retirement!
