

Hamburg University of Applied Sciences – Scholarship Programme

Hamburg University of Applied Sciences is a partner university of San Diego State University and is offering a scholarship of 1,500 Euro. This covers the cost of housing and the semester ticket for a study semester in Hamburg (March – July 2010).

Hamburg University of Applied Sciences offers courses in English in:

- International Management

Course information can be found on the website: www.haw-hamburg.de/studyabroad (see Programmes)

Information and films about Hamburg can be found here: www.hamburg-tourism.de

Students interested in applying should send in the following papers to Teresa Donahue, Director Study Abroad Programs:

- resumé
- statement of motivation and study plan (choice of courses) for your stay in Hamburg
- confirmation of student status (at your home university)
- Transcript of Records from your home university
- reference from a professor of your home university
- information about your level of German (should you be taking courses in German)

Questions regarding studying in Hamburg can be sent to:

Hamburg University of Applied Sciences
International Office
Ingrid Weatherall
international@haw-hamburg.de

Application deadline: 1. October 2009

SDSU will forward the applications to Hamburg University of Applied Sciences, who will make the final decision.