

Kyoto Sangyo University Kyoto, Japan

SUMMER 2007 PROGRAM

Cost: 230,000 yen or about US$1,967

Dates: June 25 to July 20 (Arrival at KSU on June 21 for orientation on 22)

Included in program: (Subject to change)

- Up to 120 hours of classes and related activities and excursions, and textbooks.
- Qualified and experienced Japanese language instructors
- Personal conversation partners
- Accommodation (choice of shared room in dormitory or homestay, subject to availability)
- Meals - Breakfast and evening meal (no included on Sunday for dormitory students)
- A taste of Japanese Culture through martial arts, tea ceremony and calligraphy.
- City tours of Kyoto and Nara
- Kindergarten visit
- Weekend break at Lake Biwa in log cabins and with BBQ dinner.
- Public transport for sightseeing on free days.
- IJP memorabilia including disc of photo and Certificate of Completion.
- Welcome and farewell functions
- Personal pastoral care from prior to arrival to course end.

Locale: Kyoto Sangyo University is located in the Kamigamo region in the north of the old capital city of Kyoto. Its location allows students to not only study in and experience modern Japan, but also to see, feel and live traditional Japan through the unrivaled number of historically significant sites, sounds and flavors waiting to be discovered throughout the city. Kyoto is an ancient city, where the Imperial Palace existed for more than one thousand years from the end of the eighth century. The city has many temples and shrines, and is famous for its chinaware, textiles and Kyoto dolls. .

Web Site in English: www3.kyoto-su.ac.jp/index-e.html

