Mentors Needed!!

Who We Are
Excellence and Justice in Education Academies (EJEA) are independent charter schools in the city of El Cajon that are providing high quality educational instruction, academic enrichment services, a nurturing learning environment, and a supportive community to children so they can gain skills, tools, motivation, and self-confidence needed to be the first in their families to graduate from high school, attend college, and pursue their dreams.

Our Vision for Students:
- Literacy in multiple languages
- High test scores
- College ready students
- Close the achievement gap
- Ethical service to the community
- Opportunity and choice in life
- Empowered actors for social justice

We need COMMITTED and CARING college students to volunteer at least 1 hour a week with our Middle School students.

As a mentor:
You will work with a middle school student.
You will help them and support them academically, socially, and emotionally (in-class and outside of school).
