Hi Mom and Dad,

It's my bed time right now but I'll write this post card first. We're all moved into the new house now. It's nice and big, but I slept better at the other place because of where the bed was. Work is fun, but there's this creepy ~~idiot~~^{orderly} dude from Alabama who goes up and calls the kids - Hey, boy don't you like that, boy. I despise him. The other orderly is nice and treats the kids good. We finished painting the new furniture. I still have lots of money from the first time you gave Pat money. I think they want to buy a piano with the next money since Becky thinks he's wasting his money on the motorcycle. Love, Annie
